

ABBS Expands Global Academic Partnerships with Elizade University, Nigeria

Acharya Bangalore B School \(ABBS\) Bengaluru, India has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Elizade University, Nigeria, strengthening its commitment to expanding international academic cooperation and creating global learning opportunities for students and faculty.

Effective from 28th July 2026, the five-year partnership establishes a framework for collaboration in education, research, institutional development and cross-cultural learning. A key focus of the MoU is the development of progression pathways, enabling eligible students from Elizade University to pursue postgraduate programmes at ABBS, subject to applicable admission requirements.

The partnership will also explore hybrid delivery of academic and professional courses through online, offline and blended modes. Students from Elizade University will have opportunities to participate in semester-based study abroad programmes at ABBS, with appropriate academic credit recognition.

The collaboration further provides scope for joint academic and research projects, publications, research supervision and innovation initiatives, along with faculty exchange programmes involving teaching, research, curriculum development and guest lectures.

ABBS and Elizade University will also explore short-term international immersion programmes, industry visits, internships, corporate interactions and collaborative academic events such as conferences, seminars, workshops and faculty development programmes. The exchange of academic publications, teaching materials and research resources will further support knowledge sharing between the two institutions.

This partnership reflects ABBS's continued efforts to build meaningful international collaborations that provide students with global exposure, cross-cultural learning and academic progression opportunities, while creating new avenues for collaborative research and faculty engagement.
