

ABBS Signs MoU with Godfrey Okoye University, Nigeria

Acharya Bangalore B School \(ABBS\) Bengaluru, India has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Godfrey Okoye University (GOUNI), Nigeria, strengthening its commitment to expanding international academic cooperation, research and cross-cultural learning.

The MoU, effective from 4th August 2026, establishes a framework for collaboration between the two institutions across student mobility, academic programmes, research and faculty engagement. A key focus is the development of academic progression pathways, enabling eligible undergraduate students from GOUNI to pursue postgraduate programmes at ABBS, subject to applicable admission requirements and academic regulations.

The partnership will also explore hybrid delivery of academic and professional courses in online, offline and blended formats, along with semester-based study abroad opportunities for undergraduate and postgraduate students.

The collaboration further provides for joint research projects, publications, research supervision, innovation initiatives and faculty exchange programmes. ABBS and GOUNI will also explore opportunities to jointly organise international conferences, seminars, workshops and faculty development programmes.

A significant component of the partnership is the development of short-term international immersion programmes combining academic learning, industry exposure, entrepreneurship, innovation and cultural exchange. Opportunities for industry visits, live consulting projects, internships and corporate interactions will further enhance experiential learning.

The institutions will also encourage the exchange of academic publications, teaching materials, research resources and educational best practices, creating opportunities for continued knowledge sharing.

The MoU reflects ABBS's growing international engagement and its efforts to create meaningful global opportunities for students and faculty. Through this partnership, ABBS and GOUNI aim to foster international learning, collaborative research, student mobility and stronger India-Nigeria academic engagement.
